

FIGHT WITH COKERS.

Pennsylvania Deputies Fire on Strikers Who Mob Workmen.

One of the Assaulted Miners So Beaten that He May Die.

Twenty-five Shots Fired, but the Bullets All Fall Short.

(By Associated Press.)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., May 9.—A battle occurred at the H-I Farm Works, north of here, at daylight in which about twenty-five shots were fired by deputies. No one was injured by the bullets, which were shot by the strikers, one of them, R. Harbarger, it is thought, being fatally injured.

About 5 o'clock, as Harbarger and three companions were going to work, they were met by a delegation of forty strikers, who notified them that an attempt to go further would be fatal. Harbarger argued with the men, but they would not give in. The deputies were not yet on guard to protect the workmen, so the strikers fell on them with clubs and beat them in a most brutal manner.

Harbarger was beaten to insensibility, and would have been killed had not the deputies arrived on the scene. They got their Winchester rifles and started to take a hand in the affair. The strikers would not move, and the deputies opened fire on them from the yards.

When the bullets began whistling by their heads the strikers left their victims and fled towards Dunbar.

Several shots were returned by the strikers, but the men were not well enough armed to stand their ground.

ARMENIAN LASTERS MOBBED.

So Beaten by Stoneham Strikers that They Can't Appear in Court.

(By Associated Press.)

STONEHAM, Mass., May 9.—A conflict between the non-union Armenian lasters, who have taken the places of the striking union lasters in Arthur E. Mann's factory, took place last night as the 1,500 people had congregated at the factory, and when the non-union men made their appearance they were surrounded by the mob.

They attempted to board an electric car but the crowd saw the move, and in a twinkling the car was crowded by people who had taken possession to prevent the Armenians from riding.

One Armenian, James Edjidian, clung to the car, but was knocked down and beaten by the mob. Thoroughly frightened, he drew a knife and began to flourish it. The crowd fell back and commenced to bombard the little army with stones, which did serious damage.

The police came to the rescue, and after considerable delay succeeded in arresting six of the Armenians, who were brandishing their long daggers and making desperate lunges and thrusts. At the station-house it was found that they were not badly hurt that they will probably not appear in court to-day.

ANARCHIST OUTRAGE.

Hotel Blown Up and One Life Lost in Algiers.

(By Associated Press.)

ALGIERS, May 9.—A supposed anarchist outrage, resulting in loss of life, was committed here to-day.

A hotel owned by a man named Torti was blown up. One person was killed and three persons were injured by the explosion.

Torti, the landlord, recently testified against some Anarchists who were on trial at Toulon.

STRIKERS' BICYCLE CORPS.

Chicago Painters Will Hunt Non-Unionists Down on Wheels.

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, May 9.—The striking painters of this city have organized a bicycle brigade of thirty wheels to use in hunting down non-union painters. The walking delegates will hereafter ride.

The jokers on which the non-union men are at work are scattered about the residence and suburban districts.

Miners' Strike Bulletin.

The coal of the West Virginia National Guard has been ready to move at two hours' notice in anticipation of trouble with miners.

The coal strike threatens to interfere with supplies in the Baltimore and Annapolis area. The coal of Baltimore is said to be limited.

At Seattle, Ind., yesterday, 200 miners marched into the city, headed by the Sheriff, and demanded that three miners, Harry, Claude and Verne, be released from jail. They refused to do so. The police prevented trouble.

The striking coal workers in Pennsylvania have had another day of later going and have almost reached the point of entire acquiescence. The miners' company will not accept any more of the strike yesterday, and this almost all from stock that has been in the yards for weeks.

The coal miners at Tinton, Mont., 200 in number, refused to go to work last evening. The strike is in sympathy with the big strike of miners.

A thousand striking miners, headed by about 500 armed men, a brass band, and one hundred and fifty men heavily armed, descended upon the Strip Pit mine, in Indian Territory, yesterday. Working men offered no resistance and the men quit work.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company has put an embargo on the coal of the West Virginia National Guard. The road will carry the coal to hold for its own use in emergency if the supply should run so short as to threaten the stoppage of trains.

ALLEGED FIRE BUG ON TRIAL.

It Is Stated that He Is One of a Gang.

The trial of Donato Lanoscha on a charge of setting fire to the house, 60 President street, Brooklyn, on Jan. 21 last, was continued before Judge Moore, this morning. It is alleged that Lanoscha was a member of a gang of fire-bugs.

Lanoscha was arrested with an Italian named Corosa, Francisco. The fire was discovered in the apartment of Joseph Bagnarelli, a detective attached to the district attorney's office, testified that he found a bottle containing explosive liquid, a quantity of gun cotton and excelsior on a fuse in the apartment.

The wardrobe was near a hot stove. The fuse was burning, and the witness stated that Francisco was compelled at the point of a revolver to put out the fire.

The property was insured for $1,000, about three times its value. Explosive fluids similar to those found in Lanoscha's apartments at 697 Sixth avenue.

NINE RIOTERS KILLED.

Gendarmes Forced to Fire on a Mob in Austrian Silesia.

Striking Miners Endeavor to Drive Men from Work.

They Rush on the Police, Regardless of Repeated Warnings.

(By Associated Press.)

TROPPAU, Austria, Silesia, May 9.—The striking miners made a desperate attack to-day upon a detachment of gendarmes who were guarding a colliery in Polish Ostrova, with the object of making a raid upon the mines and buildings in order to drive away the men who were at work.

The rioters were warned to disperse, but instead of doing so began pelting the police officers with stones.

Finally they made a rush upon the police, expecting to drive them away by force of numbers.

The gendarmes, after a last warning, opened fire upon the rioters, killing nine of them and wounding twenty others.

The mob then fled in all directions, threatening, however, to return in larger numbers and avenge the death of their comrades.

The gendarmes are being reinforced, and no further trouble is anticipated at that particular point.

QUINN WAS A TERROR.

Assaulted His Mother, Policemen and a Fellow-Prisoner.

Thomas Quinn, an ex-convict, of 23 Bridge street, Brooklyn, who had been arrested for brutally assaulting his mother, kept the officers of the Adams Street Police Court, Brooklyn, the sergeant and the policemen in the station below and an ambulance surgeon from the City Hospital.

Quinn has been out of the penitentiary only a few days. Court Officer Harrison saw Quinn on Fulton street this morning, and knowing a warrant had been issued for his arrest, took him to the Adams street station. Quinn resisted and attempted to escape several times on the way to the station.

When he was taken before the sergeant at the desk he wanted to see the warrant for his arrest. While the sergeant was looking for it Quinn jumped through the door of the station, expecting to land outside on one sidekick.

He miscalculated the distance, and eluded headfirst into a lamp-post, opposite the station. He fell back to the sidewalk unconscious, sustaining a severe scalp wound several inches long on the top of his head.

Ambulance Surgeon Molin was called and dressed the man's wounds. He was then taken to the police station, where he was placed in the prisoners' pen of the court.

Quinn went inside, a man named O'Brien, clerk of the court, asked him for some tobacco. Quinn struck O'Brien and knocked him down and was pushing his face when two officers went to the rescue.

Quinn was then taken before Justice Walsh and charged with assault. He was held for examination. Both O'Brien's eyes were blackened and he had several bruises on his face.

BOYCOTTERS WARNED.

Four Budweiser Beer Opponents Sent to the Island.

Four men who annoyed Saloon-keeper Joseph Ketzlik, of Fourteenth street and Avenue C, because of their opposition to beer, were sentenced to the island for six months each in default of $1,000 by Justice Koch in Essex Market Court to-day.

They were: Denis Kennedy, twenty-five years old, of 218 East Twenty-eighth street; James Slattery, twenty-seven years old, of 347 East Thirtieth street; James Slattery, twenty-seven years old, of 335 East Twenty-ninth street; and Philip Curran, twenty-eight years old, of 213 East Twenty-ninth street.

Saloon-keeper Ketzlik stated that since he caused the arrest of two men last week who stood in front of his door, telling people to boycott his saloon because he kept Budweiser beer, he has been annoyed more than ever. Not alone did the men stop the customers, but they also threw all kinds of stuff into the saloon.

The four boycotters denied the charge made against them. They insisted that they were arrested for merely passing along the street, but the officers who arrested them said they were standing in front of the saloon.

In sentencing the prisoners, Justice Koch remarked that he was determined to break up the boycotting business, and that he would accept nothing but real estate bail.

James McGarry, twenty-five years old, of 335 East Thirtieth street, was also arrested for annoying the saloon-keeper, but was released on his own recognizance.

TWO TRAINS TAKEN.

Coxeyites and Hoboes Continue Their Raids on the Rail.

Ditched Engines Fail to Stop Colorado 'Wealers.

Tramps in Ohio Drive Off Trainmen with Clubs and Revolvers.

(By Associated Press.)

PUEBLO, Colo., May 9.—While a Rio Grande railroad engine was taking coal last evening it was suddenly surrounded by fifteen of the Coxeyites under Gen. Sanders, who came in Saturday. They ran the locomotive down to the Missouri Pacific yards and attached it to six coal cars. The whole band boarded the cars and started east at a lively gait. Four miles out they met an engine, and the engineer of the latter reversed and is keeping ahead of the intruders.

The latter stopped their train at Boone, and took coal and water. The engines passed Nepesta going fifty miles an hour. The Superintendent had an engine returned in a cut at Olney in order to stop the intruders at that point. The seizure prevented the movement of United States mails.

The industrial succeeded in getting around the obstruction, however, and resumed their journey eastward about 3.30 A. M. Supt. Dorsey ordered four engines which had been waiting developments at Arlington, seventy-five miles from here to go east as rapidly as possible. He also ordered another locomotive to be ditched near Hawell, which is beyond Arlington. Not a train except the stolen one is now running on the Missouri Pacific in Colorado.

The tank at Ordway, ten miles beyond Olney, has been emptied, and water for the locomotive can be secured only from wells around there. It is likely that the engine will run dry before the obstruction is reached. It will be almost impossible to pursue the army from this direction, as to hold their tanks around the ditch they have taken up 100 feet of.

United States Marshal Jones, in Denver, has been advised of the interference with the movement of the mails, and counsel for the Missouri Pacific in Denver has been instructed to apply to the Federal Court for an injunction to prevent further interference by Sanders and his men.

The Coxeyites' stolen train encountered another obstruction near Arlington, thirty miles east of this city, where four engines were ditched by order of Supt. Dorsey. The industrial promptly began having tracks around this obstruction. Sheriff Moore endeavored to raise a posse to capture Sanders and his army, but could not secure more than forty men. The railroad authorities communicated with Judge Hall at Denver in regard to securing Federal aid.

At Ordway the water in the stolen engine was used by the industrial, being obliged to obtain a supply from a well, carrying it in their dinner pails.

CINCINNATI, May 9.—The Cleveland railroad express on the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern Railroad was held up near Wyoming, last night by about twenty "hoboes." The train crew drove the intruders off, as they were not more than forty men. The railroad authorities communicated with Judge Hall at Denver in regard to securing Federal aid.
